NEW! ROLLING THUNDER SIMPLE SCORING COMPETITION DISC
Competition scoring made simple on the Rolling Thunder: machined aluminum calibrated disc. A Rolling Thunder (No. 1246), IronMind Olympic Loading Pin and Carabiner (No. 1314-C), and this disc equal 5 kg. Talk about simple math.
No. 1246-DSC (3 lb.) $89.95

Not pushed to his limit, Alexey Tyukalov (Russia) won the Rolling Thunder at the 2019 APL Armlifting World Championships (St. Petersburg, Russia) with an effortless 110-kg second attempt. Tyukalov holds the world record at 130.5 kg (287 lb.).
Randall J. Strossen photo

Although he missed this 117.5-kg attempt taken after he’d already won, Russia’s Roman Penkovskiy ruled in the 2019 Rolling Thunder® World Championships—an event that began with an IronMind/Odd Haugen collaboration in 2000. The Rolling Thunder has gone on to form the cornerstone of armlifting, the name for the popular worldwide grip strength competitions that feature the Rolling Thunder, Apollon’s Axle and CoC Silver Bullet as their core events.

Armlifting: Grand Prix of Grip

. . . and it starts with the world-famous Rolling Thunder, the grip training tool that started the sport of armlifting.

ROLLING THUNDER® REVOLVING DEADLIFT HANDLE
One of the world’s premier tests of grip strength, the Rolling Thunder is a training tool of first choice for everyone from armwrestlers to rock climbers and will become one of your favorites as well. Hook it up to a loading pin and clip (not included), for one-hand deadlifts, doing either reps or holds. 7-1/2” in length (rotating portion is 6” in length); 2-3/8” in diameter.
No. 1246 (3 lb.) $89.95

Test yourself: the current Rolling Thunder world record is 130.5 kg/287 lb. men; 77.2 kg/170.2 lb. women.

Setting the stage for the birth of armlifting, IronMind introduced the Rolling Thunder in 1993, and starting in 2000, we began holding Rolling Thunder World Championships in conjunction with Odd Haugen, who used the contest as the kickoff event for his strongman contests. Armlifting began in 2010 as a single-event competition featuring the Rolling Thunder, which has remained the cornerstone of armlifting contests ever since.

What is armlifting?

Armlifting was born in 2010, when a Russian arm-wrestling promoter asked IronMind’s Randall Strossen for permission to organize grip contests featuring the Rolling Thunder, dubbing the competitions “armlifting.” So, armlifting is the Russian name for grip contests that began with the Rolling Thunder and have since come to include other grip world staples like the Apollon’s Axle Double Overhand Deadlift, the IronMind Hub, and the CoC Silver Bullet Hold. Newer additions are the Little Big Horn and the IronMind Block.

APOLLON'S AXLE Thick Bar of Champions

The Apollon's Axle Double Overhand Deadlift is an armlifting mainstay—but you can use it for grip, strongman and functional strength. Not just the original—it debuted in 1994—but the best and the strongest thick bar, the one that has more world records set on it than all the others combined.

Non-revolving, polished steel with natural finish; weighs about 33 lb. (15 kg). Two-inch diameter bar between the inside collars; takes Olympic plates and is the same length (7 ft.) as an official weightlifting or powerlifting bar; loading surface on sleeve is 17".

The winner of TacOps in men's division was Daniel Jirasek and the top women was Reanna Kadic competing in the 2019 Hard as Hell-Texas Edition 3Gun competition. Organizer Josh Sallee wrote, "It's difficult to dictate exactly how the shooters will carry an object—in this case, an IronMind Rolling Thunder and a Little Big Horn—and that is part of the fun of the game; you can see by the pictures they got creative with holding the items while still getting into a stable shooting position." Jill Roush photos.

Pronation/Supination, Radial/Ulnar Deviation

The development of the muscles involved in supination—pronation is important in all sports, as well as for injury prevention. Throwing a baseball, for example, involves pronation (hands palms down), while swinging a baseball bat or golf club involves supination (hands palms up). The IronMind Wrist Reinforcer and Heavy Hammer II Leverage Bar take the wrist through full range-of-motion exercises in all directions to develop your wrists and forearms into one very strong and very solid unit. Lever, do hold-outs for time, try circles and figure-eights.

WRIST REINFORCER™

Work your wrists and forearms into one very strong and very solid unit.
14" long with a 1-3/8" diameter knurled handle; takes exercise plates (plate-loading end is 1-1/16" diameter, 4-1/4" long); comes with a Bulldog II Collar. (Plates shown not included.)

No. 1255 (3 lb.) $54.95

Bench press alert!

For safety's sake, a number of exercises should ALWAYS be performed with a foolproof spotting system in place—and one exercise that maims or kills people with some regularity is the garden-variety bench press. Our safety advice: never ever bench press without a proven spotting system. Never. Ever.
